I feel as if I should succeed in my work but feel very anxious, partly about Kennicott. I hope to God that I shall get some particulars about him before leaving for the North.

Remember me to all friends and believe me very truly yours
Wm H Dall

A photograph of a handwritten letter on lined paper. The handwriting is in cursive and matches the typed transcription on the left. The letter is written on a piece of paper with horizontal blue lines. There are some small stains and a hole punch mark visible on the paper. The signature 'Wm H Dall' is written in a stylized cursive script, followed by a flourish. The recipient's name and address are written at the bottom of the letter.

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.
