Dear Mr. Seligmann,

I had hoped to come in person to thank you for the pleasure of your visit, but the days pass - and so I write instead. Also I want to give you the dates of my articles in L'Amour de l'Art. The one on Delacroix was in the number for June, 1930; the one on Barye appeared in November 1932.

With good wishes
Yours cordially
Walter Pach.

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.
