My dear Miss Fletcher:

At last it is settled that I am to report in Philadelphia on Sat., June 30th. Would it be convenient for me to spend two or three days with you in Washington prior to that date? Or would you prefer to receive me after our Summer School is over? Please let me know. I know you want to see me.

I am worked down & worried down or played out, just now, I have no phonograph & the work does not go on. I have just moved my school quarters and am in the suds. It is all very depressing. I shall have hard work in Phila., in the heat. But I must earn money. When I get these cylinders off my hands, if I ever do, I am going to drop science & attend to my own business, which has been sadly neglected. I can't afford to neglect it any longer.

Greetings to Miss Gay & Francis.

Yours as ever
J.C. Fillmore

Smithsonian Institution

National Anthropological Archives

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.
