Smithsonian Institution
National Anthropological Archives

Alice Cunningham Fletcher Papers- Correspondence Box: 1, 1896-98

Extracted on Mar-28-2024 09:09:57

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the National Anthropological Archives as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the National Anthropological Archives website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact National Anthropological Archives or transcribe@si.edu

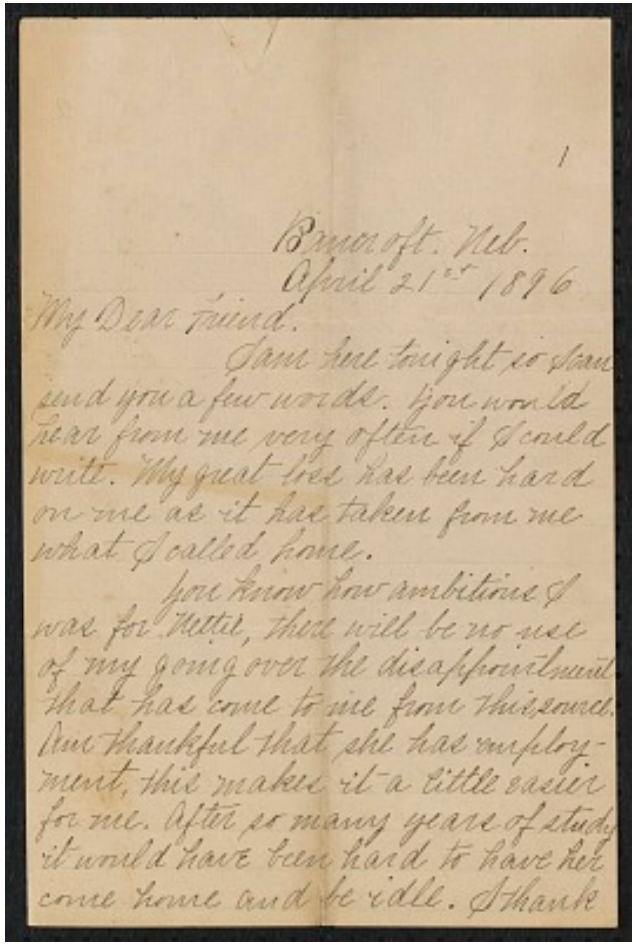

For more information on this project and related material, contact the National Anthropological Archives. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

Bancroft. Neb.
April 21st 1896

My Dear Friend.

I am here tonight so I can send you a few words. You would hear from me very often if I could write. My great loss has been hard on me as it has taken from me what I called home.

You know how ambitious I was for Nettie, there will be no use of my going over the disappointment that has come to me from this source. Am thankful that she has employment, this makes it a little easier for me. After so many years of study it would have been hard to have her come home and be idle. I thank

Alice Cunningham Fletcher Papers- Correspondence Box: 1, 1896-98
Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers
Extracted Mar-28-2024 09:09:57

Smithsonian Institution
National Anthropological Archives

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities.Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!
The Transcription Center: https://transcription.si.edu
On Facebook: https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter
On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian
Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu
On Facebook: https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian
On Twitter: @smithsonian