21 Nov. 1959

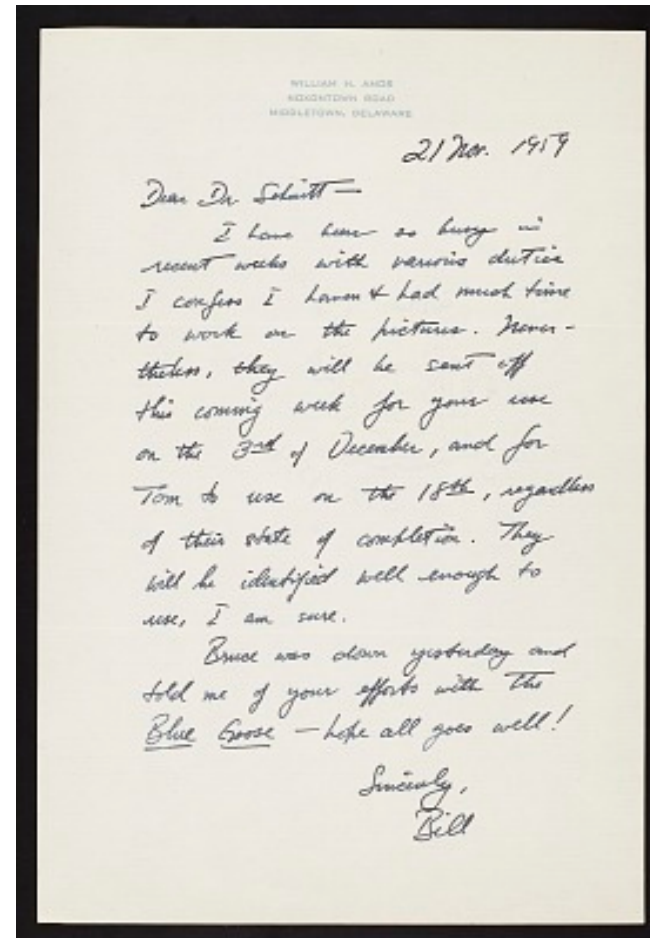

Dear Dr. Schmitt—

I have been so busy in recent weeks with various duties I confess I haven't had much time to work on the pictures. Nevertheless, they will be sent off this coming week for your use on the 3rd of December, and for Tom to use on the 18th, regardless of their state of completion. They will be identified well enough to use, I am sure.

Bruce was down yesterday and told me of your efforts with the Blue Goose — hope all goes well!

Sincerely,

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.
