Rev. John Kimball,

Dear Sir,
I have attended to my duties here with the utmost interest, & care, & have not left the School, without your knowledge, & permission, until last Sat'day week, my child was sick, & not expected to live; (this I can prove, by Dr. Garland, who I employed to attend it) & intended to inform you in my report, for the month. It has always been my motto, that any thing, worth, doing at all, is worth doing well. (this I can prove by previous employers) & not one of the Trustees has ever been in the School one hour to see what interest, I manifest, in its duties. When you come, you will see that I have been at work, since I came here.

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.
