Major W. L. Vanderlip

Sir:

I was very sorry not to see you on Wednesday & still more sorry that our plans do not admit of our staying here over Saturday in order to visit some of the Maryland Schools.

I have not yet answered your note of last week about sending Jos. Chew to Church Hill. We do not want to take him at all — neither Mr. Alvord nor Major Brown could promise the continuance of the $10.- payment beyond the present quarter, & although there is, I suppose, but little doubt about it, still, if there is the slightest, we shall be running the risk of incurring a debt by taking any Teachers beyond those already engaged.

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.
