POLITICS

PROFILE NO. 17

A look into the portfolio which J. (for Jehoida) Augustus McPherson totes importantly around will reveal a mass of ambitious proposals for educational development. Westmoreland-born (Bellevue, January 1900) "Mac", is Minister of Education, peacock-proud of the job, and has been going all out to make good at it.

Opportunist Labourites wondered why Busta picked the short, spectacled, unspectacular Miconian for a cabinet post. In his obscure teaching days at Dalvey and Seaforth, in the Duckenfield cane and coconut area of St. Thomas, Mac and Busta were bosom pals. Neither displayed any outward political ambitions. Busta wanted to lead Labour; Mac wanted to see the class and colour distinctions in St. Thomas levelled off. Busta's BITU was a handy weapon. That it developed into a political weapon was all the better for race-conscious Teacher "Mac".

Why was he so worried about "that machine"? "The one that Jamaica, and I want to help her," was Mac's usual reply to critics - plus a brand, ready grin.

Busta Chalk & Bunker. By '41 the Labour Party was an ad-hoc meeting by '41 Busta asked Busta to stand in '41 St. Thomas. Mac, already had some chalk and water. Next thing he knew he was M.H.N. Bunker, Esq. member.

At first he was at one, conscious only of the opportunity to add his 30-lb. bag to the good for "my people". His most recent proposal is a programme for making 30 schools to run the existing shortage among teachers.

Down Chalk & Duster. By '43 the Labour Party was an all-island reality. In '44 Busta asked friend Mac to stand in West St. Thomas. Mac willingly laid down chalk and duster. Next thing he knew he was the M.H.R., Minister, Ex-Co member.
