

Smithsonian Institution

Anacostia Community Museum Archives

The National Association of Colored Women, Inc., Bulletin #1 Golden Jubilee Celebration, July 27- August 2, 1946

Extracted on Apr-18-2024 09:03:23

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the Anacostia Community Museum Archives as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the Anacostia Community Museum Archives website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact Anacostia Community Museum Archives or transcribe@si.edu

For more information on this project and related material, contact the Anacostia Community Museum Archives. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

establishing industrial homes for problem boys and girls all over the South. Association women have provided nursing care and hospital wards in cities and towns that had no hospital facilities; they have shared their own meager incomes in order to conduct kindergartens, establish libraries, and through scholarships provide educational opportunities not otherwise available.

During two wars these organized women have worked loyally for improved soldier morale, and for the sale of bonds. They have sought to develop among the youth of the race a great respect for past accomplishments of the Negro and a future completely integrated into the civic life of democratic America through improved home environment and better training for industrial competition.

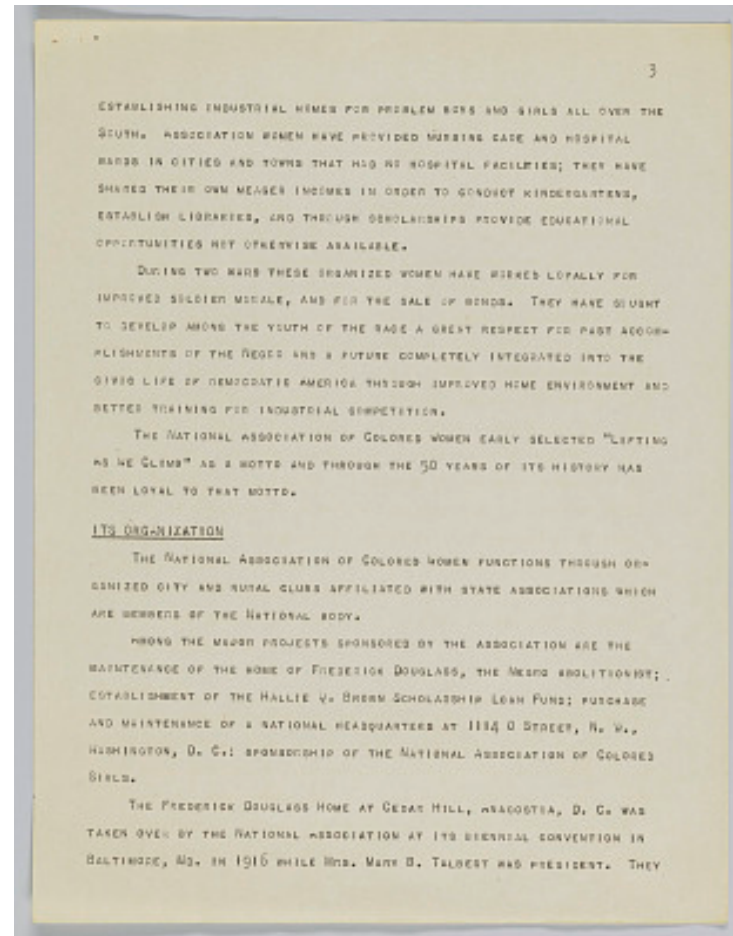

The National Association of Colored Women early selected "Lifting As We Climb" as a motto and through the 50 years of its history has been loyal to that motto.

ITS ORGANIZATION

The National Association of Colored Women functions through organized city and rural clubs affiliated with state associations which are members of the National body.

Among the major projects sponsored by the association are the maintenance of the home of Frederick Douglass, the Negro abolitionist; establishment of the Hallie Q. Brown Scholarship Loan Fund; purchase and maintenance of a national headquarters at 1114 O Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.; sponsorship of the National Association of Colored Girls.

The Frederick Douglass Home at Cedar Hill, Anacostia, D. C. was taken over by the National Association at its biennial convention in Baltimore, Md. in 1916 while Mrs. Mary B. Talbert was president. They

The National Association of Colored Women, Inc., Bulletin #1 Golden Jubilee Celebration, July 27- August 2, 1946
Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers
Extracted Apr-18-2024 09:03:23

Smithsonian Institution

Anacostia Community Museum Archives

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!

The Transcription Center: <https://transcription.si.edu>

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter>

On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian

Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian>

On Twitter: @smithsonian