

Smithsonian Institution

Archives of American Art

Correspondence between Grace Mott Johnson and Andrew Michael Dasburg, 1910

Extracted on Mar-28-2024 05:08:41

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the Archives of American Art as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the Archives of American Art website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact Archives of American Art or transcribe@si.edu

For more information on this project and related material, contact the Archives of American Art. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

[[preprinted]]GRAND HOTEL DES VOYAGEURS

B. JOYEAU, PROPRIETAIRE CONCARNEAU
TÉLÉPHONE 13 [[/preprinted]]

August 14th '09

My dear Grace.

I was very glad to get your letter this morning. Yesterday I thought a letter from you would arrive, in the morning instead of working I waited for the letter carrier, felt very blue because there was nothing for me, especially so last night, thought that perhaps you would arrive last night waited for the train, but my mate did not come.

When I opened your letter this morning the first thing to catch my eye were my to card, my first thought was that perhaps you were angry etc, wondered why you should send them back to me; after reading your letter I decided you must have put them in the letter by mistake.

Telegraphed you because a letter would probably take a day or more to reach you, also because I did not write to you on Thursday night or last night, and you would wonder why I did not write.

Miss. Cockcroft left for Paris tonight. I shall move our things to the new place on Monday; took some of my canvases around this afternoon.

Paid two hundred-fifty francs on our bill today, do not know what the total will be: told Mrs. Joyeau that I would give her the rest of it latter. She said it would be alright and said in her usual nice way "bon bon".

GRAND HOTEL DES VOYAGEURS
B. JOYEAU, PROPRIETAIRE • • CONCARNEAU
TÉLÉPHONE 13
August 14th '09.
My dear Grace.
I was very glad to get your letter this morning. Yesterday I thought a letter from you would arrive, in the morning instead of working I waited for the letter carrier, felt very blue because there was nothing for me, especially so last night - thought that perhaps you would arrive last night - waited for the train, but my mate did not come.
When I opened your letter this morning the first thing to catch my eye were my to card, my first thought was that perhaps you were angry etc, wondered why you should send them back to me; after reading your letter I decided you must have put them in the letter by mistake.
Telegraphed you because a letter would probably take a day or more to reach you, also because I did not write to you on Thursday night or last night, and you would wonder why I did not write.
Miss. Cockcroft left for Paris tonight. I shall move our things to the new place on Monday; took some of my canvases around this afternoon.
Paid two hundred-fifty francs on our bill today, do not know what the total will be: told Mrs. Joyeau that I would give her the rest of it latter. She said it would be alright and said in her usual nice way "bon bon".

Correspondence between Grace Mott Johnson and Andrew Michael Dasburg, 1910
Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers
Extracted Mar-28-2024 05:08:41

Smithsonian Institution

Archives of American Art

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!

The Transcription Center: <https://transcription.si.edu>

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter>

On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian

Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian>

On Twitter: @smithsonian