

Smithsonian Institution

Archives of American Art

Letters from Grace Mott Johnson to Alfred Dasburg, 1914-1919

Extracted on Apr-20-2024 11:45:56

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the Archives of American Art as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the Archives of American Art website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact Archives of American Art or transcribe@si.edu

For more information on this project and related material, contact the Archives of American Art. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

gone to Woodstock with you.
we saw the furnaces and the men putting coal on the fires. It was very hot down there in the engine room.

"Last night I saw" lots of porpoises in the water. They are like big fish, bigger than you are, and they swim very fast & jump out of the water and dive like mother --- only much better.

There are lots of people on the boat and some boys & girls and one little German boy like you. We have dinner on the boat and

A photograph of a handwritten letter on aged, slightly yellowed paper. The handwriting is in cursive, written in dark ink. The text is arranged in several paragraphs, with some lines indented. The paper shows some minor staining and wear, particularly along the edges. The letter is a personal communication from Grace Mott Johnson to Alfred Dasburg, dated 1914-1919.

gone to Woodstock with you.
We saw the furnaces and the men putting coal on the fires.
It was very hot down there in the engine room.
"Last night I saw" lots of porpoises in the water. They are like big fish, bigger than you are,
and they swim very fast & jump out of the water and dive like mother --- only much better.
There are lots of people on the boat and some boys & girls and one little German boy like you.
We have dinner on the boat and

Letters from Grace Mott Johnson to Alfred Dasburg, 1914-1919
Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers Extracted Apr-20-2024 11:45:56

Smithsonian Institution

Archives of American Art

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!

The Transcription Center: <https://transcription.si.edu>

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter>

On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian

Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian>

On Twitter: @smithsonian