Alvin Roth of New York is one of the world's greatest players. He is also one of the inventors of the Roth-Stone system. Bridge players can get along without the Roth-Stone system, but they can't get along without some of the Roth innovations. Two of these - the unusual no-trump and the negative double - are found in almost every expert kit today.

One of his newest ideas is the unusual cue bid. Today's hand shows the Roth unusual cue bid in action. North wants to be in game and offhand it appears that a no-trump game will be the best spot. In fact North has a typical two no-trump call over West's spade overcall. If he makes that bid, South will raise to three no-trump. East will open a spade, South's queen will bite the dust, North will take a diamond finesse and West will collect six tricks. North and South will complain about bad luck and someone will deal the next hand.

The bidding in the box shows how Alvin would get the no-trump contract into the South hand. North's two spade call is a Roth cue bid and asks partner to bid no-trump with a partial spade stopper. South complies, North raises the three no-trump and nothing can bother South. A spade lead will hold declarer to 10 tricks. Against the club lead he can and probably will make 11, but the important thing is that three no-trump is safe as Fort Knox.

We don't recommend this Roth cue bid for any but well-developed partnerships. It doesn't come up often, and if it is going to confuse you when it does, you had better leave it alone. How do you handle a regular slam try cue bid when you are playing this convention? This is easy indeed. The cue bidder repeats the cue bid to show that it is a real one. Dear Loretta [[image - photo of Loretta Young]]

WANTS TO BE ACTRESS

Dear Loretta:
I am 12 1/2 years old. I wanted to be an actress and I wanted you to give me some helpful hints on how I could become an actress. I have watched you on television and I think you act good. I hope you answer me. Thank you.
DARLINE

Dear Darline:
I began before I was 5 - and studied and practiced, practiced, practiced.

Meanwhile, thanks for your compliment.
Loretta

BETTER THAN NONE!

Dear Loretta:
My husband is now serving in Vietnam. We were married seven months before he left for overseas duty. HE will be eligible for rest and recuperation leave in a few months and plans to meet me in Hawaii. His mother plans to join us (without his father).

We both love his parents very much, and my husband would love to see them; however, we feel as though if both parents would go we'd love to have them, but not one.

We don't want to hurt his mother's feelings, and would appreciate your advise in this matter.
THERESA

Dear Theresa:
Perhaps your husband's parents have decided that only mother could go - due to finances or the press of dad's job or business.

Even so, if you don't want to hurt his mother's feelings, say nothing. Half a loaf is better than none!
Loretta

Dear Loretta:
Several years ago, we started a jockey training school, open to very small boys from all over the world. We set out to fill this school with boys from broken homes, or worse, whose start in life has been a little on the short side. We felt that horse racing had something to offer these young men - a shot at a decent future and a chance to let their size work for them.

The trainees have decided that they would like to decorate their meeting room with pictures of prominent people from all walks of life. Since you are one of their favorite movie stars, they have requested that I write asking for your picture. Thanks.
REX C. ELLSWORTH

Dear Mr. Ellsworth:
I would be delighted to send a picture. I think the Rex C. Ellsworth Ranches is doing a wonderful thing for wonderful little guys. Keep up the good work! I'm rooting for you!

QUICK QUIZ

Q - Is it true that the hippopotamus sweats blood?

A - There is no foundation for this belief. During warm weather, the hippo's skin does secrete a reddish, oily liquid to make the skin more resistant to water. But this secretion is not blood, although it resembles blood in general appearance.

Your Birthday And Horoscope
by STELLA

FRIDAY, MARCH 15 – Born today, you are highly original but seem to lack the confidence to make the most of your own ideas. You give in easily to pressure brought to bear by family and friends and would rather give up following your own bent than risk tension and argument with those dear to you. You have outstanding talents which should be brought to fruition -- but unless you learn to go your own way, you will never reach the success possible for you.

You have considerable difficulty narrowing your sights to a single, attainable goal, and seem to prefer working at many things at once to concentrating all your efforts and talents in a single direction. You are reasonably ambitious, but unless you cease early in life to spread yourself too thin, your ambition will not be enough to spur you on to success in all that you undertake.

Your first impressions are generally the right ones, and it is only your inclination to give in to the wishes and opinions of others that makes you change your mind and, thus, often, your results. You can know great discernment and, through it, great personal success, but only if you learn to be influenced by your own instincts rather than those of others.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Saturday, March 16

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 21) – Take care not to allow yourself to be talked into action you'll regret later on. Loved ones make good protection.

ARIES (Mar. 22-Apr. 20) – Trust your own responses today. The way you "feel" about situations and circumstances may be far more important than what you think.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21) – You may have to change your plans for a social Saturday. Business matters important to your future may call for attention.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) – Make snap judgements -- especially where strangers are concerned -- at your own risk. Chance of error is particularly high today.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) – The Cancer who can avoid any show of temperament stands the best chance of success in personal relationships.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) – Whatever does not please you today bears full investigation. Others may have vital information; get hold of it if you can.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) – Stick to what you know today, even where home chores are concerned. The Virgo who tries new ventures may be in for a sad surprise.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) – An offer important to your family's well-being may be made today. Don't hesitate too long before making a decision.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) – The Scorpio who sees to it that the family enjoys a change of scene and pace today encourages domestic tranquility.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) – The wise Sagittarius will remain skeptical regardless of how good an offer looks on the surface. Investigate.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) – Opportunities offered today may be too vague to be worth your decision at this time. Wait for something more solid.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) – Make every effort to avoid even the appearance of deception. The wise Aquarius will be scrupulously honest.
