

Smithsonian Institution

National Museum of African American History and Culture

Delegate Magazine 1968

Extracted on Apr-19-2024 01:49:36

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the National Museum of African American History and Culture as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the National Museum of African American History and Culture website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact National Museum of African American History and Culture or transcribe@si.edu

For more information on this project and related material, contact the National Museum of African American History and Culture. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

[[image - black & white full page photograph of Joan Murray]]

WCBS-TV NEWS CORRESPONDENT
JOAN MURRAY

Strikingly attractive, young, and according to her critics, "unusually personable," WCBS-TV News Correspondent Joan Murray, as judged by one of the major daily newspapers, "has a lilting sense of humor and is blessed with a speaking voice that does not grate on masculine ears."

The young woman to whom that tribute was paid not too long ago has been with WCBS-TV as a correspondent since April 1965. her current major assignment is as co-host with Jim Jenson of the 2 AT ONE news and feature broadcast (1:00-1:30 PM, weekdays).

Miss Murray began her career in broadcasting as a secretary in the CBS Television Network Press Information Department, and in the company's Corporate Division. She has since worked as a production secretary on the Network's "Candid Camera" program, and has gained additional experience by performing in radio and television commercials, industrial films, and in small parts in various motion pictures and television programs..

Delegate Magazine 1968
Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers
Extracted Apr-19-2024 01:49:36

Smithsonian Institution

National Museum of African American History and Culture

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!

The Transcription Center: <https://transcription.si.edu>

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter>

On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian

Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian>

On Twitter: @smithsonian