

Smithsonian Institution

National Museum of African American History and Culture

Delegate Magazine 1974

Extracted on Mar-28-2024 07:59:35

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the National Museum of African American History and Culture as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the National Museum of African American History and Culture website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact National Museum of African American History and Culture or transcribe@si.edu

For more information on this project and related material, contact the National Museum of African American History and Culture. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

[[advertisement]]

Is your vacation going to be just a few days off, or a real experience?

[[line]]

American can take you to the cities that are alive with the present and rich in the past. Your Travel Agent has all the details.

[[line]]

[[image- black and white photo of man and woman with two children, at airport]]

For children, nothing can be more exciting about history than seeing the place where it was made.

And for parents, what could be more rewarding than sharing that excitement with them?

Imagine the thrill of visiting the Tuskegee Institute in Alabama.

Or the Crispus Attucks monument in Boston.

Or the Beckwourth Pass in California.

Or the new Martin Luther King Memorial in New York.

[[image- black and white photo of girl smiling and holding American Airlines bag]]

That's why the American Experience Fly/Drive vacations are such a great idea.

As little as $179 plus air fare puts a family of four in an economical Plymouth Duster (you pay for the gas) and Holiday Inns. For 7 days and 6 nights.

Choose from nine geographic areas in the U.S.

If you've got a city in mind: New York, Los Angeles, Washington,

Boston, Memphis—you name it—talk to your Travel Agent.

And be sure to ask about the special air fares that apply.

That makes it even easier to turn a vacation into an American Experience.

[[image- black and white photo of family in front of Martin Luther King Memorial]]

[[image - black and white photograph of an American Airlines plane]]

[[/advertisement]]

Delegate Magazine 1974

Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers

Extracted Mar-28-2024 07:59:35

Smithsonian Institution

National Museum of African American History and Culture

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!

The Transcription Center: <https://transcription.si.edu>

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter>

On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian

Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian>

On Twitter: @smithsonian