Robert Brown, the Black NBC cameraman who was gunned down during the turmoil in Guyana involving the People's Temple, will be immortalized in a scholarship fund for minorities. Friends of Brown, who was rated as "one of the best in his field" have established the memorial scholarships to assist Black students of journalism at major universities.

National Museum of African American History and Culture

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.
