OBITUARY

VICTOR A. COLLYMORE

Services for Victor A. Collymore, 54, former assistant fire commissioner, will be held noon Monday in St. Ambrose Church, 9 W. 130th St., Harlem. He died last Monday in his home after a heart attack. Collymore was praised by outgoing Fire Commissioner Augustus Beekman as an "effective, trustworthy and dedicated official." Collymore, who was a World War II fighter pilot and a 28-year veteran of the department, was head of the community relations division when he retired last summer. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Olive Collymore; a brother, Marsden, and a son, Victor.

Smithsonian Institution

National Museum of African American History and Culture

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.
