"If you can succeed as a Ranger, you're bound to succeed in life."
SP4 Eugene Rhoden, 2nd Ranger Battalion

"When I was in college studying engineering, my brother was in the Rangers. I thought he was crazy. I kept asking him what kind of future he'd have, jumping out of airplanes. Now he's in college, I'm in the Rangers, and I know what kind of future both of us are going to have.

"I figure if someone instills 110% confidence in you, you can't help but succeed. And that's exactly what the Rangers do. We train hard physically. We're expected to move faster, go further, work harder.

"But it's really more mental that physical. In the Ranger battalion, you learn to overcome your fears, which naturally strengthens you. I know, without a doubt, whatever I face, if I can put my mind to it, I can do it."

Along with every Army skill comes the opportunity to push beyond potential and discover what you can really do. For more information, see your local Army Recruiter or call toll free 1-800-USA-ARMY

National Museum of African American History and Culture

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.
