Collections of fishes made in Nicaragua, by Charles W. Richmond, were purchased.

Harry W. Perry explored in Honduras collecting fishes and other objects in Natural History.

Dr. W. L. Abbott obtained collections of fishes from the Indian Ocean at Seychelles, Aldabra, and other islands.

Mr. J. H. Camp, stationed on the Congo, west-central African coast collected fishes, but unfortunately most of them rotted before he could make the shipment and to be thrown away. Those received came in very bad condition.

Mr. Frank P. Davis obtained specimens of fishes in Central America.

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.
