Webb's Crossing Road Bridge to Open Soon

The new five-girder concrete bridge on the Webb's Crossing road over the Canisteo River, is expected to be open to the public by the end of the week.

The Hornell Construction Corp., which began the $129,000 project July 23, 1956, is putting the finishing touches on the job today. Guard rails are being painted and the shoulders of the Bridge approaches are being landscaped.

The work proceeded according to schedule and is being completed in advance of the Aug. 1 termination date stipulated by the New York State Department of Public Works.

Constructed to an elevation which will eliminate flooding of the highway, the new bridge is 113 feet long with a curb-to-curb width of 32 feet and with 20-foot wide approaches.

Blacktop surfaces both the two-span structure and the approaches leading to it.

The new bridge replaces a truss-type structure which was 14 feet wide and had a four-ton limit.

Work of the Bridge has necessitated a two-mile detour from a point near the Burkhart Hotel on the Arkport road, across the Erie Railroad tracks and along the railroad south on Sanitarium Rd. The detour has been in use for approximately the past year.

Barbara Hall's Quiz Winnings Now at $96,000

Barbara Hall, a relative of a Hornell family, boosted her winnings to $96,000 last night through her knowledge of Shakespeare.

The young actress, who is a grand-niece of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Dodd of 267 High St., has been appearing weekly on the television program "The $64,000 Question." She has answered successfully numerous detailed questions about Shakespeare's writings and his life.

Miss Hall, whose parents live in Pittsburgh, is appearing in the New York production of "Ziegfeld Follies."

Next week she will announce her decision to try for the $128,000 question. If she tries and is successful she will become eligible for questions that could lead to a top prize of $256,000.

'Be Alert for Pedestrians'

2 Boys, 4 and 6, Admit Pin Alleys Vandalism

Damage done during the past weekend to the DeLuxe Bowling Alleys at 42 Broadway and the rifling of an automobile have been admitted by two youngsters, Hornell police said today.

A four-year-old boy and another six-year-old told Sgt. E. Clifford Dillon yesterday that they were responsible for breaking. 33 windows from the bowling alley building and for rifling the car of Murray Stevens of North Hornell. They said they committed these acts late Saturday afternoon.

Myles Ward of Hornell, owner of the Bowling Alleys, told police that damage to his building would amount to $400. In addition to the broken windows, the interior of the building was said to have been damaged. Stevens said his loss would amount to about $25. Golf balls taken from his car were recovered.

Sgt. Dillon and Acting Police Chief Carl R. Roosa said today that a further investigation of the case would be made and that parents of the boys may be held responsible for their damage.

Mayor and Blanche S. Scott To Attend Flyers' Breakfast

Hornell Mayor Lloyd R. Burdett and Mrs. Blanche Stuart Scott of Canisteo RFD, pioneer pilot whom Glenn Curtiss taught to fly, have accepted invitations to attend the Fly-In, Drive-In Breakfast Hop scheduled Sunday at the Hornell Airport by the Hornell Flying Club Inc., according to William E. Richmyer, general chairman.

Mrs. Scott, credited with being the first woman pilot, has a collection of photos of early aviation scenes, which she said she would exhibit at Sunday's event, Richtmyer said.

Airplane owners pilots and all persons interested in aviation have been invited, and a wide variety of aircraft types is expected. Among those expected are E. C. Heidenreich of Short Tract, who owns a 1931 Stearman bi-plane, the forerunner of the World War II primary trainer, and H.L. Siloway of Hilton, owner of a Baby Ace, a one-seat high-wing midget monoplane which he built.

The breakfast will begin at 8 a.m. and continue until all visitors are served.

No competitive events have been scheduled, since club members felt that most persons would prefer to sit around the breakfast table and discuss airplanes and flying.

Blood Runs Made

Steuben County Sheriff's deputies yesterday made two relay blood runs from Wayland to Corning Hospital. Yesterday morning, Deputies W. Harland Pease and Forest Harrington handled one consignment and last evening, Deputies Jack Lisi and Lawrence Nichols another.
