My dear Knabenshue: Saw the enclosed clipping of the Wright Bros' plane and thought it might be of interest to you. Some time ago I read that some director is going to make a movie of the Wright Brothers' life but heard later that the picture was delayed indefinitely. I wrote him about you but cannot find his letter. He said he would write me if and when it would be produced. I have been looking for the letter that he wrote me but have not been able to locate the letter. If I find it will send it to you. Do drop in and see me when you get down this way again.

Very Truly,
Carl Louis Gregory

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.
