

Smithsonian Institution

Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum Archives

Hattie Meyers Junkin Papers - Journal articles, 1930s

Extracted on Apr-18-2024 11:03:31

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum Archives as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum Archives website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum Archives or transcribe@si.edu

For more information on this project and related material, contact the Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum Archives. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

The Flying Cabinet

Though the administration has its feet firmly on the ground, the Cabinet seems to be very much in the air this season.

[[leftmargin]]
The [[?]]at White House Receptions (both [[?]]
[[?]] couple
[[/leftmargin]]

[[image]]SECRETARY OF STATE HENRY LEWIS STIMSON- dressed in the smartest of airplane travel togs always smiles when he boards a plane for New York. He did some flying in Europe during the war. He enjoys flying and prefers it to any other means of transportation.

SECRETARY OF WAR PATRICK HURLEY is such an aviation enthusiast that he has learned to pilot a plane and is in the air most of the time on business or pleasure. Wife Ruth has recently put up a set of signals on the top of the Hurley home and a red flag means, "Come down, Pat, the Hoovers are coming over to dinner." [[image]]

[[image]]ATTORNEY GENERAL WILLIAM DEWITT MITCHEL wants slower landing speed and less motor noise before he starts hobnobbing with the birds. Business is business with this dignified dispenser of justice, so he flies when he has to - and he has made many long trips - but he isn't risking his judicial neck for an air thrill.

WALTER F. BROWN, Postmaster General, can take aviation apart and show you what makes it tick. He thinks air travel the best means of transportation and boards a plane for California with the same aplomb that characterizes his daily travel from Wardman Park to the post office. [[image]]

— TAILWINDS —

The Flying Cabinet

Though the administration has its feet firmly on the ground, the Cabinet seems to be very much up in the air this season.

SECRETARY OF STATE HENRY LEWIS STIMSON—dressed in the smartest of airplane travel togs always smiles when he boards a plane for New York. He did some flying in Europe during the war. He enjoys flying and prefers it to any other means of transportation.

SECRETARY OF WAR PATRICK HURLEY is such an aviation enthusiast that he has learned to pilot a plane and is in the air most of the time on business or pleasure. Wife Ruth has recently put up a set of signals on the top of the Hurley home and a red flag means, "Come down, Pat, the Hoovers are coming over to dinner."

ATTORNEY GENERAL WILLIAM DEWITT MITCHELL wants slower landing speed and less motor noise before he starts hobnobbing with the birds. Business is business with this dignified dispenser of justice, so he flies when he has to—and he has made many long trips—but he isn't risking his judicial neck for an air thrill.

WALTER F. BROWN, Postmaster General, can take aviation apart and show you what makes it tick. He thinks air travel the best means of transportation and boards a plane for California with the same aplomb that characterizes his daily travel from Wardman Park to the post office.

6

*Other head movement - at White House
Receptions
Printed here to couple
April 1935*

Hattie Meyers Junkin Papers - Journal articles, 1930s
Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers
Extracted Apr-18-2024 11:03:31

Smithsonian Institution

Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum Archives

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!

The Transcription Center: <https://transcription.si.edu>

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter>

On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian

Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian>

On Twitter: @smithsonian