Heartiest Congratulations on Another Successful Step in the Advancement of Aviation Progress

When War transformed gliding from a sport to an essential of Victory, the lessons learned at National Soaring Contests proved their worth. That is why Bendix Aviation Corporation welcomes back this annual event. From it will surely come applications equally important to the problems of peacetime aviation - and enterprise furthering the progress of flight deserves and has our wholehearted support.

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.
