Harold E. Morehouse Flying Pioneers Biographies Collection - Daugherty, Earl G.

Extracted on Mar-28-2024 04:10:20

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum Archives as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum Archives website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum Archives or transcribe@si.edu

For more information on this project and related material, contact the Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum Archives. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

[[stamped]] FROM THE FLYING PIONEERS BIOGRAPHIES OF HAROLD E. MOREHOUSE [[/STAMPED]]

plane seemed intact so he continued the race.

He flew for Gage until about May 1st, then returned to Coal City, Illinois to fly for Somerville for the summer. There Daugherty flew the 50 Gnome Morane monoplane, formerly owned by George Mestach, but recently purchased by Somerville. That summer Somerville had Daugherty and Lester Holt flying exhibitions throughout the mid-west. For some time during the season Daugherty was based at Cicero Flying Field, Chicago, where he again did considerable exhibition flying. That Fall he returned to California where he was flying actively during the winter and spring months.

In April, 1914 Daugherty was conducting the flight tests of a new special tractor biplane which an 80 H.P. Curtiss motor that was built for a Japanese syndicate. During the early summer he returned to Cicero Flying Field for his base of exhibition flying that season. There he started flying the Somerville Morane monoplane again and about midseason bought this plane. He also did considerable test flying of new planes which had been built on the field. On August 29th he attempted to fly one of these experimental planes to Elgin, Illinois to attend the automobile races, carrying Orval Snyder as his mechanic. On the way they had to make a forced landing in a corn field when the engine froze. In getting down they turned turtle in the tall corn and wrecked the plane, but fortunately they were not injured. About this time Daugherty contracted to have a new special exhibition tractor biplane built to his design by the well known Chicago plane builder Max Stupar. This plane was known as the Daugherty-Stupar Tractor, with a 50 H.P. Gnome engine. Using the Morane Monoplane Daugherty flew at Mackinac Island, Michigan on September 17th at a Home Coming Celebration, then made two flights a day at Eaton, Ohio on October 1st and 2nd. On October 16th and 17th he flew at Dowagiac, Michigan. Shortly after this his new plane was completed and he shipped both planes to California for the winter. At this place seemed intact so he continued the rece.

He flew for Dage until short May Let, then returned to Coal City, Illinois to fly for demorvible for the summer. There Designarly flew the 50 Occas Morses assesplane, formerly owned by Deorge Mestach, but recontly purchased by Demorvible. That summer Demorvible had Designarty and Legier Bolt flying exhibitions throughout the mid-west. For some time during the owners Designarty was based at theory Flying Field, Chirago, more to begain this considerable exhibition flying. That Fall he returned to Uniformia where he was flying settively during the minter and soring nowher.

In april, 19th Daugherty was conducting the flight boots of a new special tractor biplace with an SU H.r. Curtise noter that was built for a Japanese symilasts. During the carly sensor he returned to Gizero Flying Field for his base of emitbition flying that season. There he started flying the Eccarville Forers complete again and shoot midseason bought this plane, to also itd considerable test flying of new places which had been built on the field. On August 25th he attaupted to fly one of these experimental planes to Sigin, Dilimin to ottend the astembile years, carrying Orwal Saylor as his medianic. On the way they had to make a forced landing in a corn field when the engine frome. In getting does they turned burtle in the tall corn and wreshed the place, but fortunately they were not injured. Short this time Daugharty contracted to have a new special combittion tractor biplione built to his dealgo by the sell known Chicago place builder lax Stupat. This place was lower as the Designaphy-Staper Tractor, with a 50 S.F. Brown augine. Teing the Strang Describes Desgarty flee at Sections Talant, Middigan on September 17th at a dame Coming Colespation, there made two fill sits a day at Salon, Ohlo so Ostober Lat mai Ind. In Ostober 18th and 17th he flow at Dunagiac, Michigan. Shortly after this his new places was some plated and to shipped both planes to California Dor the minter. At this

Harold E. Morehouse Flying Pioneers Biographies Collection - Daugherty, Earl G.
Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers
Extracted Mar-28-2024 04:10:20

Smithsonian Institution

Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum Archives

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!

The Transcription Center: https://transcription.si.edu
On Facebook: https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter

On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu

On Facebook: https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian

On Twitter: @smithsonian