

Smithsonian Institution

Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum Archives

Harold E. Morehouse Flying Pioneers Biographies Collection - Vilas, Logan A. "Jack"

Extracted on Mar-28-2024 09:03:42

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum Archives as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum Archives website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum Archives or transcribe@si.edu served in various capacities in aeronautical programs. Later he became affiliated with the Pyle-National Company of Chicago which his father had founded. In the early 1940's Vilas was Assistant to the President of this firm.

For more information on this project and related material, contact the Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum Archives. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

Vilas was one of the founder members of the Early Birdie and was President of that organization from 1938 through 1940. He was Chief of Staff of the Chicago Times Air Cadets at one time, and a Member of the Board of the Journal of Air Law and Commerce. During World War II he served as Lieutenant Colonel in the Air Force, organized the Illinois Civil Air Patrol and became its Wing Commander.

On July 1st, 1948 a plaque was dedicated at the foot of Monroe Street in Chicago to commemorate his flight across Lake Michigan in 1913. Vilas was honored in 1962 when United Air Lines named one of their jet Mainliners "The Jack Vilas" during ceremonies at Chicago's O'Hare Airport. Still living, he also maintains a southern home at Bonita Springs, Florida.

Flying Pioneer, Early Bird Logan A. Vilas devoted most of his active lifetime to aviation. As a wealthy sportsman he was always promoting the future of flying and expended considerable of his his own means to that end. A very competent pilot, his flying career was free of accidents, and his major contributions must be well recorded in the annals of American aviation history.

served in various capacities in aeronautical programs. Later he became affiliated with the Pyle-National Company of Chicago which his father had founded. In the early 1940's Vilas was Assistant to the President of this firm.

Vilas was one of the founder members of the Early Birds and was President of that organization from 1938 through 1940. He was Chief of Staff of the Chicago Times Air Cadets at one time, and a Member of the Board of the Journal of Air Law and Commerce. During World War II he served as Lieutenant Colonel in the Air Force, organized the Illinois Civil Air Patrol and became its Wing Commander.

On July 1st, 1948 a plaque was dedicated at the foot of Monroe Street in Chicago to commemorate his flight across Lake Michigan in 1913. Vilas was honored in 1962 when United Air Lines named one of their jet Mainliners "The Jack Vilas" during ceremonies at Chicago's O'Hare Airport. Still living, he also maintains a southern home at Bonita Springs, Florida.

Flying Pioneer, Early Bird Logan A. Vilas devoted most of his active lifetime to aviation. As a wealthy sportsman he was always promoting the future of flying and expended considerable of his own means to that end. A very competent pilot, his flying career was free of accidents, and his major contributions must be well recorded in the annals of American aviation history.

Harold E. Morehouse Flying Pioneers Biographies Collection - Vilas, Logan A. "Jack"
Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers
Extracted Mar-28-2024 09:03:42

Smithsonian Institution

Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum Archives

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!

The Transcription Center: <https://transcription.si.edu>

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter>

On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian

Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian>

On Twitter: @smithsonian