Smithsonian Institution
Archives of American Art

Cecilia Beaux General Correspondence, 1888

Extracted on Mar-28-2024 08:53:42

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the Archives of American Art as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the Archives of American Art website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact Archives of American Art or transcribe@si.edu

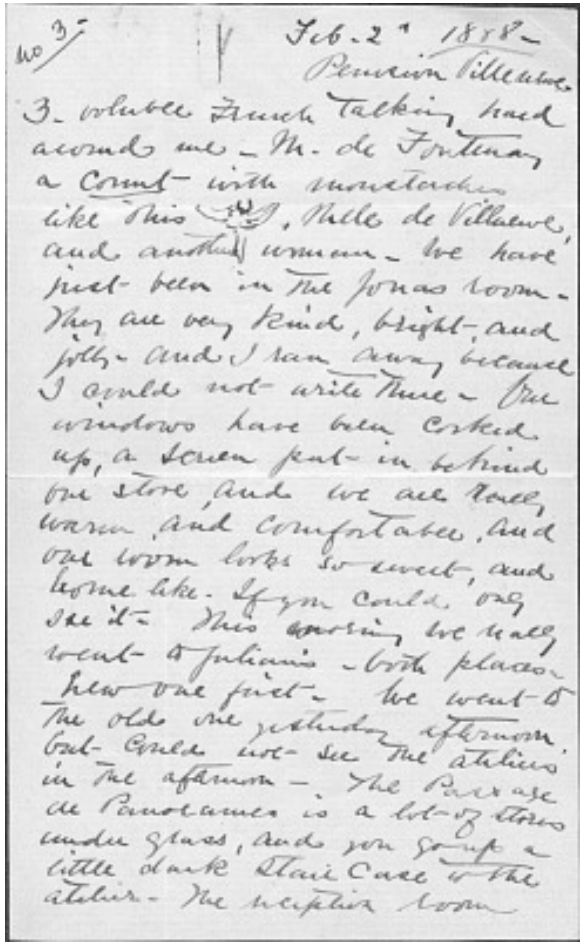

For more information on this project and related material, contact the Archives of American Art. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

No 3.

Feb 2d 1888—

Pension Villeneuve

3. Voluble French Talking hard around me - M. de Fontenay a Count with moustaches like this [[image]], Nille de Villeneuve, and another woman - we have just been in the Jonas room - They are very kind, bright, and rich - and I ran away because I could not write there - Our windows have been corked up, a screen put in behind our stove, and we are really warm, and comfortable, and our room looks so sweet and home like. If you could only see it. This morning we really went to Julian's - both places - new one first. We went to the old one yesterday afternoon, but could not see the ateliers in the afternoon - The Passage de Panorames is a lot of stores under glass, and you go up a little dark staircase to the atelier - The reception room

Cecilia Beaux General Correspondence, 1888
Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers
Extracted Mar-28-2024 08:53:42

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities.Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!
The Transcription Center: https://transcription.si.edu
On Facebook: https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter
On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian
Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu
On Facebook: https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian
On Twitter: @smithsonian