unfortunate happening. But is about over. Shall write later about details.
 Next month my Salon work is to be started. Have several subjects but, no one real favorite -
 My best work will be sent, and if any is left over I will send to London.
 I visited the Beaux Art.
 Went through all their lecture rooms, and store rooms of art treasure, it is a richly endowed school - But I have decided it is a poor place to study in. They rob a man of his individuality and throw him out later, a mechanical machine -
 They have not got such a good record as many of the private institutions.
 My desire to improve is lifting my work up, and I am thankful that this year for study is before me. I am already planning for home, and work there.
 Hope you are all well, and improving in ~~that~~ and ~~that~~ game of billiards and that you won't worry about me as I am well, happy, and working - Yours, William

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.
