My dear boy;

This is another glorious October day. The wind has gone down & the noon sun is very ardent & seems to burn one more than that of midsummer in contrast to the cold night.

I am feeling well & happy for a change & the more so because of your two letters from the city which came in this morning's mail.

I am very glad you found all your things.

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.
