all the information you can about the specimens Where collected, and how found in the jar No 4 & when found, & the evidence of their being very old &c - and give him our museum cat. [[catalog]] no. [[number]] so he can note it in his description. I regard this determination that the species is no longer known in this form, and may be the original species of the tropical cotton of great importance in showing the antiquity of the ruins from which the specimens came, and certainly of great importance botanically. Let G.H. know of this it will interest & please him--

Sincerely yours,
F. W. Putnam
