

Smithsonian Institution

Archives of American Art

Jacques Seligmann & Co. records, General Correspondence: European Correspondence Logs, 1973

Extracted on Apr-19-2024 04:19:09

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the Archives of American Art as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the Archives of American Art website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact Archives of American Art or transcribe@si.edu

For more information on this project and related material, contact the Archives of American Art. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

Paris

May 28, 1973

Dear T.,

Herewith you will find copy of my letter addressed to Mr. Namy in connection with the translation of the rococo article, which I assume you will find self-explanatory - particularly as regards the mailing of the article to him on July 15th.

May 30, 1973

Many thanks for your log, pages 7 and 8, and for the clippings included.

Herewith you will find copy of my letter to Darryl E. Isley. I do hope you will approve of it. As you can readily imagine, your cable was quite a shock to me.

MRS. MOULTON. How strange to have found this note of the genealogy of the family enclosed in a second-hand copy of Merchants of Art. We will keep this copy for future assignment.

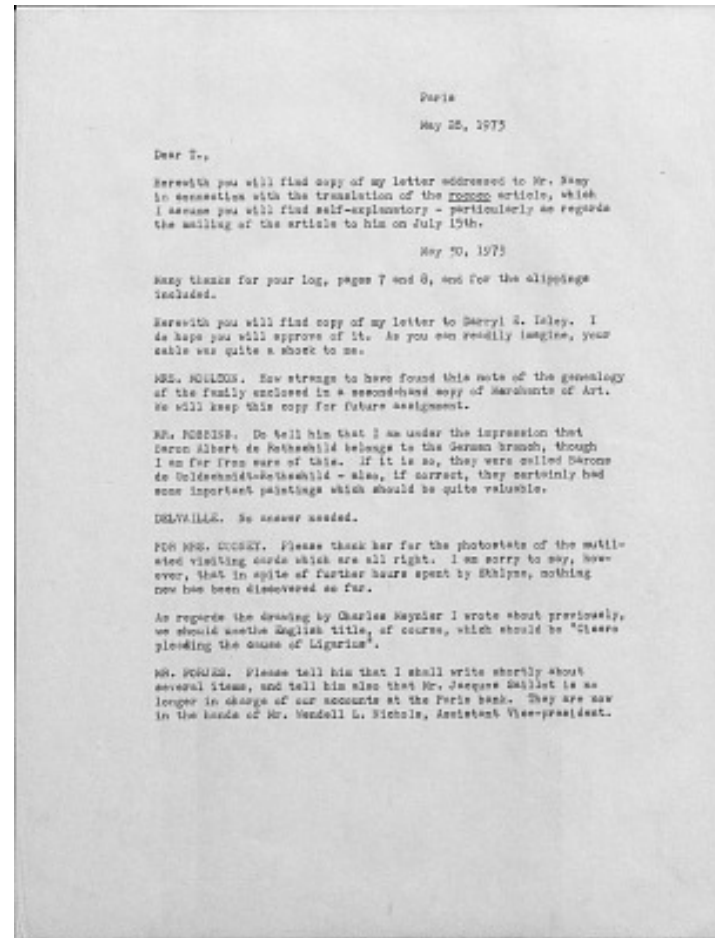

MR. ROBBINS. Do tell him that I am under the impression that Baron Albert de Rothschild belongs to the German branch, though I am far from sure of this. If it is so, they were called Barons de Goldschmidt-Rothschild - also, if correct, they certainly had some important paintings which should be quite valuable.

DELCAILLE. No answer needed.

FOR MRS. COONEY. Please thank her for the photostats of the mutilated visiting cards which are all right. I am sorry to say, however, that in spite of further hours spent by Ethlyne, nothing new has been discovered so far.

As regards the drawing by Charles Meynier I wrote about previously, we should use the English title, of course, which should be "Cicero pleading the cause of Ligarius".

MR. PORJES. Please tell him that I shall write shortly about several items, and tell him also that Mr. Jacques Saillot is no longer in charge of our accounts at the Paris bank. They are now in the hands of Mr. Wendell L. Nichols, Assistant Vice President.

Jacques Seligmann & Co. records, General Correspondence: European Correspondence Logs, 1973
Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers
Extracted Apr-19-2024 04:19:09

Smithsonian Institution

Archives of American Art

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!

The Transcription Center: <https://transcription.si.edu>

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter>

On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian

Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian>

On Twitter: @smithsonian