Mr. George H. Pepper,
American Museum of Natural History,
New York City.

Dear Friend:

I have received your paper on The Throwing-stick of a Prehistoric People of the Southwest, which I shall take home and read with very great pleasure.

We are just now bringing out a popular abbreviation of Krause's paper, for general reading.

Very truly yours,
O. Mason
Head Curator of Anthropology

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.
