Dear Doris

This has been a chilly cloudy day with occasional snow flurries but now it has grown warmer & the sun is shining out bright once more. I went down town about noon to pay some Oil & my coal bill & then came around by Maudes home. she took me over the ruins & showed me their little room on back, full, of windows where their toilet used to be originally, so they will get that room extra, then Ralph took them she & Margret & they departed down town for their dinner. I came home & on my way met Charles Welch who gave me some of his trash to give Pa a little picture of Washington in an envelope. I have felt chilly ever since I got home, so have stuck my feet in the oven & warmed my self up. I am going to have an oyster stew for my supper. I had some baked fish stuffed for dinner. about. 1 lb worth & it tasted pretty good

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.
