Dear Folks: I wish you could both be here to-day. The sun is pouring down, gulls, bathers and loungers are on the beach. Surf rolling in. Snap-shooters prevalent. Have been riding about with some people from Springfield, Mass., who arrived at house day after I did. To St. Petersburg twice - to beach - where I am now - many times. Mrs. Wade, Bertha Green's sister, is a very sweet little lady. She lost her husband this summer. We have been to dinner together two Sundays. She is a Christian Scientist. Hope you are both well and happy. Love, Lena.

Mrs. A. L. Holmes.

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.
