

Smithsonian Institution

National Museum of African American History and Culture

Playbill for Mud River Stone

Extracted on Mar-29-2023 10:05:58

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the National Museum of African American History and Culture as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the National Museum of African American History and Culture website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact National Museum of African American History and Culture or transcribe@si.edu

For more information on this project and related material, contact the National Museum of African American History and Culture. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

[[image of Kelly Bishop, L. Scott Caldwell and Suzanne Cryer in Proposals]]

[[image of Neil Simon]]

LOVE STORIES

Old flames are rekindled and new loves are born in Proposals, a romantic comedy by Neil Simon that finds the playwright far from his usual urban haunts

by Sheryl Flatow

Neil Simon, at age 70—yes, 70!—is still evolving as a playwright. Proposals, which opened last month at the Broadhurst Theatre, is Simon's 30th Broadway production and, in many ways, it is unlike any of the 29 that have gone before it. The Simon wit and humor are very much in evidence, but the outdoor set designed by John Lee Beatty immediately established a mellow and magical atmosphere foreign to the playwright's familiar urban landscapes. The play takes place near a resort in the Pocono Mountains, not-too-many miles but a world away from the New York abodes that are the backdrop for most of Simon's works. With the exception of the role of the father, portrayed by Dick Latessa, none of the characters is inherently or emotionally Jewish. A lead character is a black woman, played by remarkable L. Scott Caldwell, marking the first time in his career that Simon has written a substantial role for an African-American actor. That, in turn, compelled him to modify his familiar cadences and inflections, and develop a rhythm of speech which would be truer to this particular woman. "Her humor is different," says Simon. "Her take on life is different."

Above: Neil Simon (inset) and (fr. l.) Kelly Bishop, L. Scott Caldwell and Suzanne Cryer in Proposals

12 WWW.PLAYBILL.COM PURE THEATRE ONLINE

[[advertisement]]

THE NEW GS
FASTER. SLEEKER. MEANER.

DSTANT THUNDER, COLD AS STONE,
Naught-to-sixty in 5.8 seconds. Once a figment of the
A V8 SCREAMS DOWN FROM ITS THRONE.
imagination, now a fixture of intimidation. All courtesy of
ONE BY ONE, EACH CAR SUCCUMBS.
the 300-horsepower, 32-valve V8 which seethes within
SOMETHING WICKED
this, the fiercest, fastest automatic sedan in the world.
THIS WAY COMES.

Lexus

[[/advertisement]]

LOVE STORIES
Old flames are rekindled and new loves are born in Proposals, a romantic comedy by Neil Simon that finds the playwright far from his usual urban haunts

by Sheryl Flatow

Neil Simon, at age 70—yes, 70!—is still evolving as a playwright. Proposals, which opened last month at the Broadhurst Theatre, is Simon's 30th Broadway production and, in many ways, it is unlike any of the 29 that have gone before it. The Simon wit and humor are very much in evidence, but the outdoor set designed by John Lee Beatty immediately established a mellow and magical atmosphere foreign to the playwright's familiar urban landscapes. The play takes place near a resort in the Pocono Mountains, not-too-many miles but a world away from the New York abodes that are the backdrop for most of Simon's works. With the exception of the role of the father, portrayed by Dick Latessa, none of the characters is inherently or emotionally Jewish. A lead character is a black woman, played by remarkable L. Scott Caldwell, marking the first time in his career that Simon has written a substantial role for an African-American actor. That, in turn, compelled him to modify his familiar cadences and inflections, and develop a rhythm of speech which would be truer to this particular woman. "Her humor is different," says Simon. "Her take on life is different."

WWW.PLAYBILL.COM PURE THEATRE ONLINE

DISTANT THUNDER, COLD AS STONE,
Naught-to-sixty in 5.8 seconds. Once a figment of the
A V8 SCREAMS DOWN FROM ITS THRONE.
imagination, now a fixture of intimidation. All courtesy of
ONE BY ONE, EACH CAR SUCCUMBS.
the 300-horsepower, 32-valve V8 which seethes within
SOMETHING WICKED
this, the fiercest, fastest automatic sedan in the world.
THIS WAY COMES.

Lexus

Playbill for Mud River Stone
Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers
Extracted Mar-29-2023 10:05:58

Smithsonian Institution

National Museum of African American History and Culture

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!

The Transcription Center: <https://transcription.si.edu>

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter>

On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian

Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian>

On Twitter: @smithsonian