January 27th,
1939

Dear Belle:

I am most grateful for the very kind invitation I received to attend Walter Friedlaender's series of lectures on French drawings of the 16th and 17th centuries, and hasten to reply that I shall be most eager to attend whenever circumstances permit, and I certainly will make every effort to appear at as many of the series as is possible.

My renewed and grateful thanks, and hoping to see you soon,

As always -

Yours faithfully,

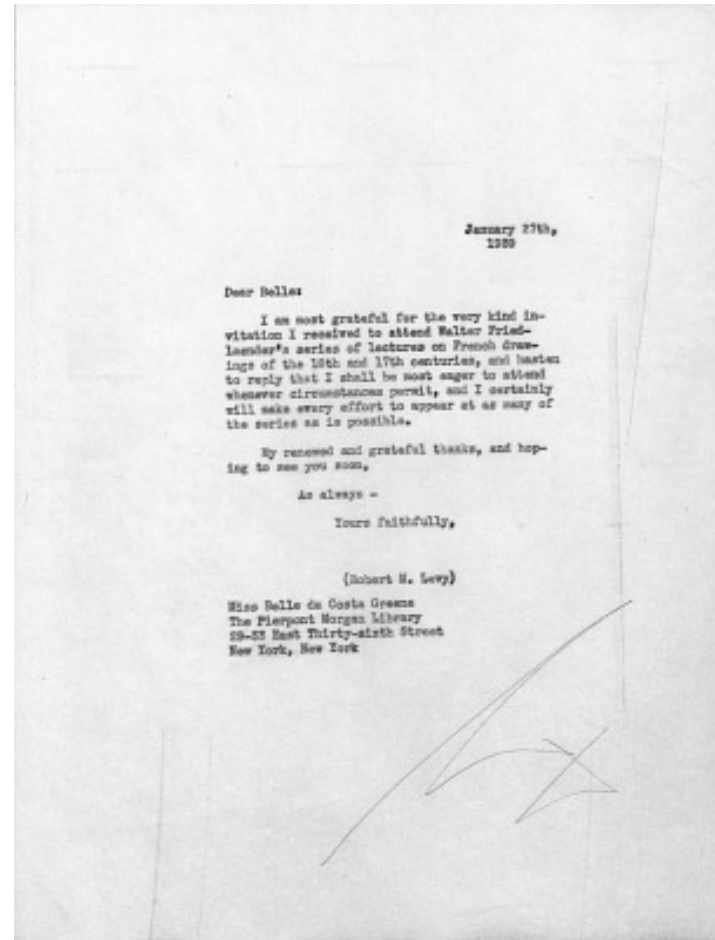

(Robert M. Levy)

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.
