limited enrollment of 100 women. Feminist educator, Cheri Gaulke, says, " We are looking for women who are self-directed. Women who identify as artists and want to integrate their feminism with their art, women who identify as feminists and want to develop the creative aspects of their work. Women who want to build community with other women from different backgrounds, with different interests and expertise. Women who want to create our future."

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.
