

Smithsonian Institution

National Museum of African American History and Culture

Journal of Dr. Ionia Rollin Whipper, 1939

Extracted on Apr-19-2024 02:55:33

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the National Museum of African American History and Culture as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the National Museum of African American History and Culture website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact National Museum of African American History and Culture or transcribe@si.edu

For more information on this project and related material, contact the National Museum of African American History and Culture. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

God speaks to us at the place where we are; in a way we can understand if we have the willingness and the faith to hear Him.

You can let Christ so order your day that everything in His will for that day will be done.

Remember that no real duties in life conflict.

Intrigue the mans imagination before moving in on his will.

It was probably I was more in a hurry for results than God. I must regard every failure an opportunity for success.

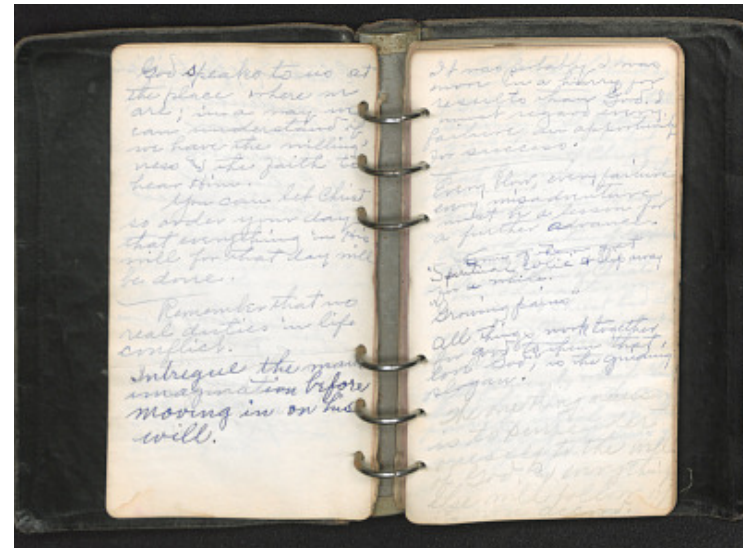

Every blow, every failure every misadventure must be a lesson for a further advance.

Some of them get "Spiritual colic" & slip away for a while.

"Growing pains"

All things work together for good to them that love God," is the guiding slogan.

The one thing necessary is to surrender oneself to the will of God, and everything else will follow of its own accord.

Journal of Dr. Ionia Rollin Whipper, 1939
Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers
Extracted Apr-19-2024 02:55:33

Smithsonian Institution

National Museum of African American History and Culture

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!

The Transcription Center: <https://transcription.si.edu>

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter>

On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian

Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian>

On Twitter: @smithsonian