

Smithsonian Institution

Freedmen's Bureau

North Carolina Field Offices, Subordinate Field Offices: Wilmington, Letters Received, A–W, 1868, Part 3

Extracted on Apr-18-2024 12:45:49

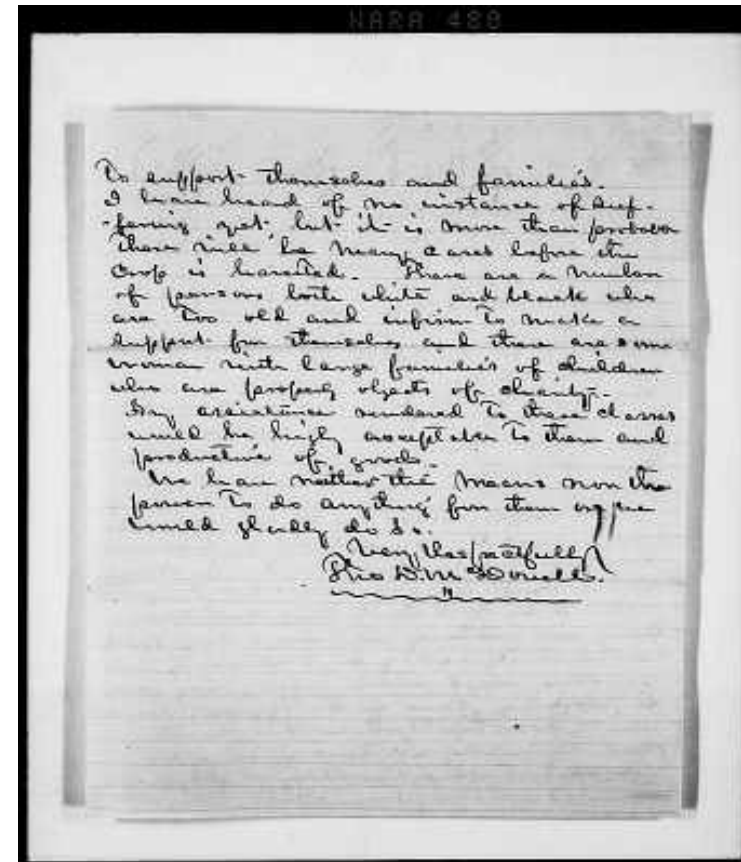

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the Freedmen's Bureau as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the Freedmen's Bureau website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact Freedmen's Bureau or transcribe@si.edu

For more information on this project and related material, contact the Freedmen's Bureau. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

To support themselves and families. I have heard of no instance of suffering yet but it is more than probable there will be many cases before the crop is harvested. There are a number of persons both white and black who are too old and infirm to make a support for themselves, and there are some woman with large families of children who are properly objects of charity. Any assistance rendered to these classes would be highly acceptable to them and productive of good. We have neither the means nor the power to do anything for them or we would gladly do so.
Very Respectfully
Tho D. McDouell.

North Carolina Field Offices, Subordinate Field Offices: Wilmington, Letters Received, A-W, 1868, Part 3
Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers
Extracted Apr-18-2024 12:45:49

Smithsonian Institution

Freedmen's Bureau

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!

The Transcription Center: <https://transcription.si.edu>

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter>

On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian

Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian>

On Twitter: @smithsonian