

Smithsonian Institution

Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum Archives

Lee Ya-Ching Papers - Newspaper clippings, 1943

Extracted on Apr-19-2024 02:32:12

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum Archives as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum Archives website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum Archives or transcribe@si.edu

For more information on this project and related material, contact the Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum Archives. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

DEMOCRACY URGED TO KEEP WORLD PEACE

United Nations Rally Hears Slav, Chinese and British Speakers
In Britain's postwar social order there still will be room for individual enterprise, though the state will keep many of its wartime controls, Margaret G. Bondfield, member of parliament and British labor leader, told a United Nations rally of 800 at the Schroeder hotel Wednesday night.

Other speakers at the meeting, sponsored by the Milwaukee conference of B'nai B'rith were Miss Lee Yaching, one of China's best known women aviators; Prof. Boris Furlan, a refugee Slovene working for the unity of Serbs, Croats and Slovenes; Dr. E. L. Belknap, chapter chairman, and Bert C. Broude, representing B'nai B'rith.

Now 'Socialist State'

Miss Bondfield asserted Britain now is a "socialist state for most practical purposes," but she declared the war has proved both the state and private enterprise can function side by side for the good of the nation.

Conquered Europe, speaking its mind in the underground newspapers, wants a real international organization, and no hegemony of this group of nations or that, said Prof Furlan.

End to Exploitation

The "common man," who is doing the fighting and dying on the underground fronts, also wants an end to "all forms of exploitation." If everlasting peace is to come, democracy must be established all over the earth, Prof Furlan declared.

Miss Ya-Ching, who is touring the nation by plane in behalf of China war relief, told how China during five and a half years of bitter war has been laboriously building new industries, constructing roads and railways and educating tens of millions of her people. What China wants, she said, is equality in the family of nations and the right to function as a democratic republic.

At United Nations Rally

[[image]]

Among those greeting Miss Lee Ya-ching, Chinese aviatrix who spoke at a United Nations rally at the Schroeder hotel Wednesday night, was Jack King, leader of the Chinese community in Milwaukee. Miss Lee is touring the country by plane in behalf of China war relief.

Milwaukee Sentinel

Second News Section

Milwaukee, Thursday, April 1, 1943

DEMOCRACY URGED TO KEEP WORLD PEACE

United Nations Rally Hears Slav, Chinese and British Speakers

In Britain's postwar social order there still will be room for individual enterprise, though the state will keep many of its wartime controls, Margaret G. Bondfield, member of parliament and British labor leader, told a United Nations rally of 800 at the Schroeder hotel Wednesday night.

Other speakers at the meeting, sponsored by the Milwaukee conference of B'nai B'rith, were Miss Lee Ya-ching, one of China's best known women aviators; Prof. Boris Furlan, a refugee Slovene working for the unity of Serbs, Croats and Slovenes; Dr. E. L. Belknap, chapter chairman, and Bert C. Broude, representing B'nai B'rith.

NOW 'SOCIALIST STATE'

Miss Bondfield asserted Britain now is a "socialist state for most practical purposes," but she declared the war has proved both the state and private enterprise can function side by side for the good of the nation.

Conquered Europe, speaking its mind in the underground newspapers, wants a real international organization, and no hegemony of this group of nations or that, said Prof. Furlan.

END TO EXPLOITATION

The "common man," who is doing the fighting and dying on the underground fronts, also wants an end to "all forms of exploitation." If everlasting peace is to come, democracy must be established all over the earth, Prof. Furlan declared.

Miss Ya-ching, who is touring the nation by plane in behalf of China war relief, told how China during five and a half years of bitter war has been laboriously building new industries, constructing roads and railways and educating tens of millions of her people. What China wants, she said, is equality in the family of nations and the right to function as a democratic republic.

At United Nations Rally

Among those greeting Miss Lee Ya-ching, Chinese aviatrix who spoke at a United Nations rally at the Schroeder hotel Wednesday night, was Jack King, leader of the Chinese community in Milwaukee. Miss Lee is touring the country by plane in behalf of China war relief.

MILWAUKEE SENTINEL
SECOND NEWS SECTION
MILWAUKEE, THURSDAY, APRIL 1, 1943

Lee Ya-Ching Papers - Newspaper clippings, 1943
Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers
Extracted Apr-19-2024 02:32:12

Smithsonian Institution

Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum Archives

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!

The Transcription Center: <https://transcription.si.edu>

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter>

On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian

Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian>

On Twitter: @smithsonian