

Smithsonian Institution

Archives of American Art

Celebrating 175: Jacob Lawrence, Correspondence, Spelman College, Atlanta, GA, 1977-1978, 1987

Extracted on Mar-29-2024 10:50:29

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the Archives of American Art as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the Archives of American Art website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact Archives of American Art or transcribe@si.edu

For more information on this project and related material, contact the Archives of American Art. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

SPELMAN COLLEGE
ATLANTA, GEORGIA 30314
404-681-3643

May 1, 1978

Mr. Jacob Lawrence
4316 37th Avenue, N.E.
Seattle, Washington 98105

Dear Mr. Lawrence:

Words cannot express the gratitude we feel toward your consent to the exhibition of your works here at Spelman College. Needless to say, the response has been overwhelming. As you may imagine, your works are well respected here in the Atlanta University Center since a few of your earlier paintings are part of the collection at Spelman ("Praying Ministers") and Atlanta University ("Playland" and Brownstones").

To have this opportunity to exhibit your later pieces is an honor we shall always cherish. They have been viewed by many persons from many categories; public school children, the Art community, the Atlanta community in general, as well as the University Center.

We exhibited those earlier works along with your later ones, thus creating a fascinating transition in terms of your concepts. You may be interested to know that one of the viewers, Dr. John Hall, a Pediatrician here in Atlanta, says he was a Navy man on the same ship with you during the time you both served. He was intrigued by your painting "The Serengeti" and anxious to know if there were prints of it.

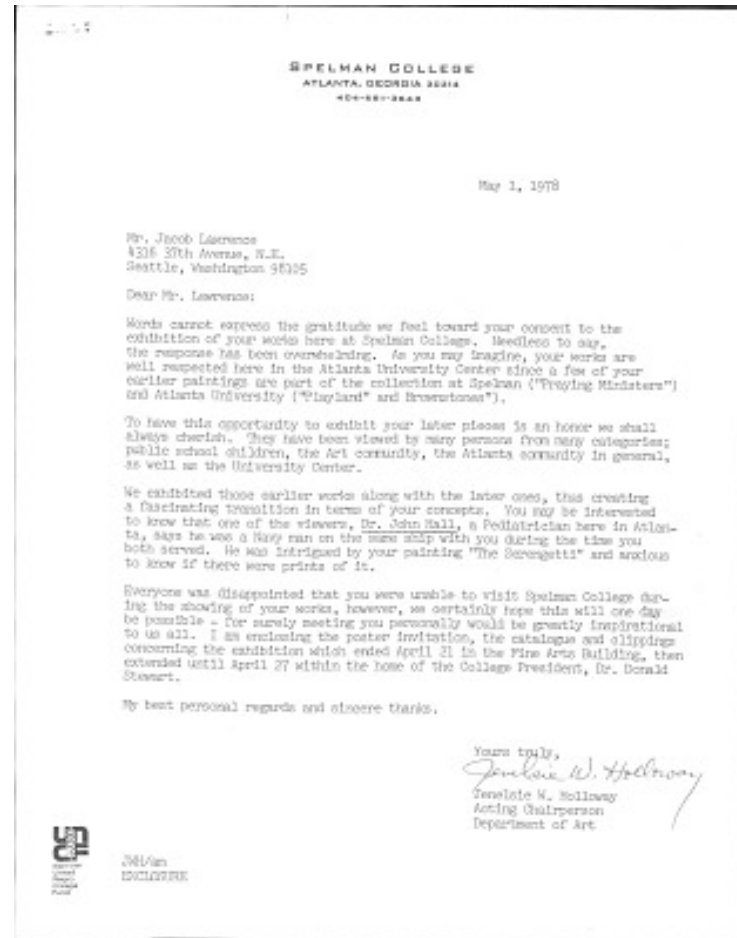

Everyone was disappointed that you were unable to visit Spelman College during the showing of your works, however, we certainly hope this will one day be possible - for surely meeting you personally would be greatly inspirational to us all. I am enclosing the poster invitation, the catalogue and clippings concerning the exhibition which ended April 21 in the Fine Arts Building, then extended until April 27 within the home of the College President, Dr. Donald Stewart.

My best personal regards and sincere thanks.

Yours truly,
Jenelsie W. Holloway
Jenelsie W. Holloway
Acting Chairperson
Department of Art

JWH/am
ENCLOSURE

[[image]]
Member
United Negro
College
Fund

Celebrating 175: Jacob Lawrence, Correspondence, Spelman College,
Atlanta, GA, 1977-1978, 1987
Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers
Extracted Mar-29-2024 10:50:29

Smithsonian Institution

Archives of American Art

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!

The Transcription Center: <https://transcription.si.edu>

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter>

On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian

Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian>

On Twitter: @smithsonian