

Smithsonian Institution

Archives of American Art

Celebrating 175: Dorothy Liebes, Correspondence, Wright, Frank Lloyd and Olgivanna, circa 1946-circa 1969

Extracted on Feb-06-2023 04:56:19

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the Archives of American Art as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the Archives of American Art website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact Archives of American Art or transcribe@si.edu

For more information on this project and related material, contact the Archives of American Art. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

OLGIVANNA LLOYD WRIGHT

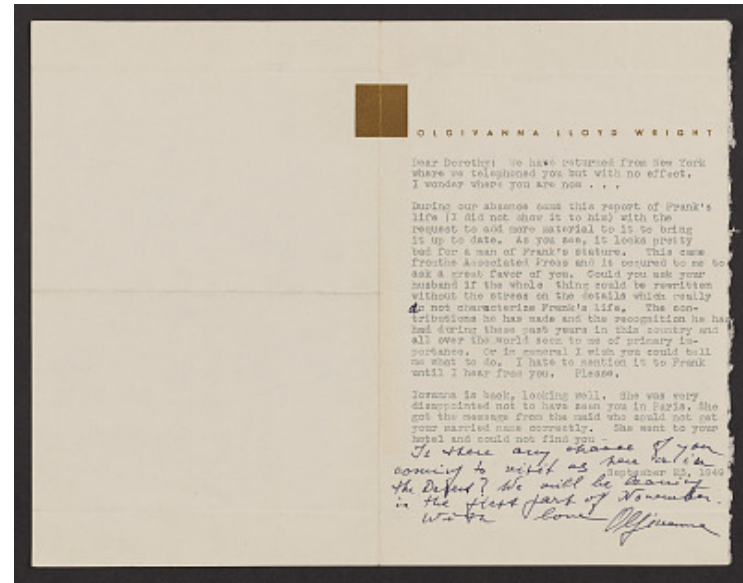

Dear Dorothy: We have returned from New York where we telephoned you but with no effect. I wonder where you are now . . .

During our absence came this report of Frank's life (I did not show it to him) with the request to add more material to it to bring it up to date. As you see, it looks pretty bad for a man of Frank's stature. This came from the Associated Press and it occurred to me to ask a great favor of you. Could you ask your husband if the whole thing could be rewritten without the stress on the details which really do not characterize Frank's life. The contributions he has made and the recognition he has had during these past years in this country and all over the world seem to me of primary importance. Or in general I wish you could tell me what to do. I hate to mention it to Frank until I hear from you. Please.

Iovanna is back, looking well. She was very disappointed not to have seen you in Paris. She got the message from the maid who could not get your married name correctly. She went to your hotel and could not find you.

Is there any chance of you coming to visit us here or in the Desert? We will be leaving in the first part of November.

With love
Olgivanna

Celebrating 175: Dorothy Liebes, Correspondence, Wright, Frank Lloyd and Olgivanna, circa 1946-circa 1969
Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers
Extracted Feb-06-2023 04:56:19

Smithsonian Institution

Archives of American Art

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!

The Transcription Center: <https://transcription.si.edu>

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter>

On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian

Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian>

On Twitter: @smithsonian