Dear Dorothy,
You have been so good to Iovanna that I am indebted to you and I don't know really what to do to give you pleasure. The thought occurred to us that maybe you would like some lovely Japanese print from Frank's collection. I hope this will in some small measure return to you for all the good things you have done for us.

The raincoats, of which I got two, are simply marvelous. I have been wearing one or the other every day of my life thus far. Thank you for giving me this chance to get them so cheaply. But for you I wouldn't have known of their existence.

The afternoon you came I felt so exhausted by the heat and by the Tom Collins (which I gulped down fast), and which I hadn't had for several years, that I sat there practically extinguished. The night that followed, the heat was so terrible in that Plaza bedroom that I hardly slept. I have never experienced anything like it before. I was glad to
