Artschwager (Caslew, 4 E, 77th); This exhibit consists of supra-industrial looking empty formica frames and multicolored formica display boxes and several architectural illustrations of buildings. The result is more of a sample of certain aspects of our civilization than a comment on it.

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.
