There is, I understand, no foundation for the rumor that Harewood House is to be placed at the disposal of Princess Mary and Lord Lascelles. They will have as their country residence Goldsborough Hall, which has been rented for the last twenty-five years by Mr. W. R. Lamb, who leaves on April 30. It is a rectangular brick house, with stone dressings, and some fine moulded ceilings in the principal rooms, and it stands in a small well-wooded park. The house was rebuilt in 1625-26, and was altered and enlarged in 1767 by the Brothers Adam, builders of Harewood House.
The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.
