

Smithsonian Institution

Archives of American Art

Jacques Seligmann & Co. records, Museum Correspondence: Ann Arbor, Michigan, University of Michigan, Museum of Art, 1948-1977

Extracted on Jan-30-2023 12:56:46

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the Archives of American Art as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the Archives of American Art website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact Archives of American Art or transcribe@si.edu

For more information on this project and related material, contact the Archives of American Art. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

New York

July 7, 1959

Dear Mr. Sawyer:

It was so pleasant a few weeks ago while I was in Europe to hear of your decision as regards the watercolor attributed to Odazzi.

In view of the information you wish to obtain, I immediately communicated with Anthony M. Clark who was kind enough to suggest writing to you directly; and by now, I assume you have heard from him.

As it was thanks to his learned efforts that we were able to identify this exceptional achievement, I was anxious to leave to him the full credit of this discovery and also to give you more detailed information than I would be able to do. ~~so.~~ ~~so.~~

In respect to the photograph of the actual cupola, I know that this matter has been on Anthony Clark's mind ever since he went to Rome last year; but if you have ever tried to secure such reproductions in Italy, you know how much perseverance and patience are needed...!

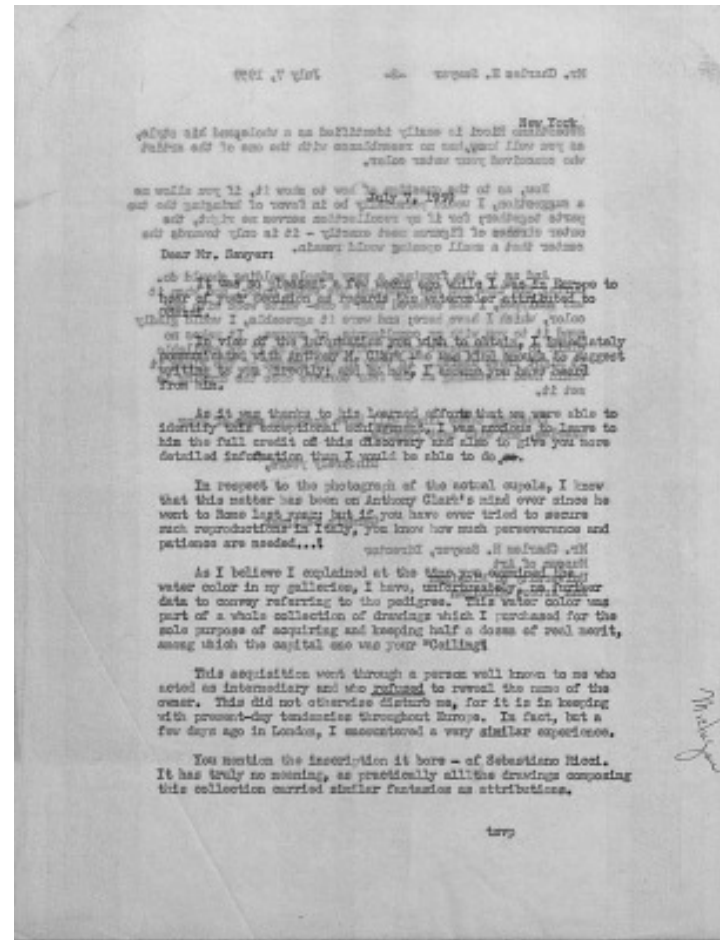

As I believe I explained at the time you examined the water color in my galleries, I have, unfortunately, no further data to convey referring to the pedigree. This water color was part of a whole collection of drawings which I purchased for the sole purpose of acquiring and keeping half a dozen of real merit, among which the capital one was your "Ceiling".

This acquisition went through a person well known to me who acted as intermediary and who refused to reveal the name of the owner. This did not otherwise disturb me, for it is in keeping with present-day tendencies throughout Europe. In fact, but a few days ago in London, I encountered a very similar experience.

You mention the inscription it bore - of Sebastiano Ricci. It has truly no meaning, as practically all the drawings composing this collection carried similar fantasies as attributions.

tsvp

[[right margin]] Michigan [[/right margin]]

Jacques Seligmann & Co. records, Museum Correspondence: Ann Arbor, Michigan, University of Michigan, Museum of Art, 1948-1977
Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers
Extracted Jan-30-2023 12:56:46

Smithsonian Institution

Archives of American Art

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!

The Transcription Center: <https://transcription.si.edu>

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter>

On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian

Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian>

On Twitter: @smithsonian