

Smithsonian Institution

Archives of American Art

Celebrating 175: Correspondence, Steinberg, Saul, circa 1943-1962

Extracted on Feb-06-2023 05:59:15

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the Archives of American Art as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the Archives of American Art website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact Archives of American Art or transcribe@si.edu

For more information on this project and related material, contact the Archives of American Art. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

that Freud Jung and Adler in their vast [[~~tombs~~]]~~tombs~~ on repression and frustration have missed. He was of course interested in the letter from you and now I wait to see him again to show him the busts - he will try to steal it - he has such amusingly distorted conceptions of ownership - believing that he who appreciates a thing most is the rightful owner - this fallacy of his moral concept is particularly maddening in affairs of the heart as he is such a god damned charmer and so easily claims what he chases to possess - however he will play hell getting my picture although he has had all of my soul mates.

I will be in Rm 728 Hotel Stewart till July 1st or there abouts (at which time I am going to shoot the entire staff with 20 mm. fire) then my address will be U.S.S. Almoza c/o 7.P.O. San Francisco Calif. If you are on the coast before July be sure and let me know. All Nav proclaimed me Lt j.g. May 1st but I haven't had time to make it official - there is something comfortably safe in Ensign slip which I hesitate to relinquish everyone knows you know nothing.

Sincerely your friend
Bill Whitney

that Freud Jung & Adler in their vast ~~tombs~~ tombs on repression and frustration have missed. He was of course interested in the letter from you and now I wait to see him again to show him the busts - he will try to steal it - he has such amusingly distorted conceptions of ownership - believing that he who appreciates a thing most is the rightful owner - this fallacy of his moral concept is particularly maddening
in affairs of the heart as he is such a god damned charmer and so easily claims what he chases to possess - however he will play hell getting my picture although he has had all of my soul mates.

I will be in Rm 728 Hotel Stewart till July 1st or there abouts (at which time I am going to shoot the entire staff with 20 mm. fire) then my address will be U.S.S. Alamoza c/o 7.P.O. San Francisco Calif. If you are on the coast before July be sure and let me know.
All Nav proclaimed me Lt j.g. May 1st but I haven't had time to make it official - there is something comfortably safe in Ensign slip which I hesitate to relinquish everyone knows you know nothing.

Sincerely your friend
Bill Whitney

Celebrating 175: Correspondence, Steinberg, Saul, circa 1943-1962
Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers Extracted Feb-06-2023 05:59:15

Smithsonian Institution

Archives of American Art

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!

The Transcription Center: <https://transcription.si.edu>

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter>

On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian

Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian>

On Twitter: @smithsonian