

Smithsonian Institution

Archives of American Art

Celebrating 175: Correspondence, Steinberg, Saul, 1943

Extracted on Feb-06-2023 04:43:07

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the Archives of American Art as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the Archives of American Art website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact Archives of American Art or transcribe@si.edu

For more information on this project and related material, contact the Archives of American Art. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

Dear Hedda,

No mail from you yet. Hope to get it in a few days. I sent you today two parcels with a few wooden toys, a ceramic, 2 embroidered scrolls. I'll send by next week another one with more stuff.

Here is quiet and cool and I take it easy I made about a dozen drawings and I'll send them to the old New Yorker soon. Very special drawings I made, rather different from my usual. I act like a photographer and sketch what I see. I'm almost no more shy about people watching. I sit down and sketch with thousands of people around looking behind the shoulder. It works. I hope you'll see them printed but I'll send you anyway a few special for you when I'll be in a mood to make something for a good girl like you. By the way, when you write me put in the envelope (together with the letter) 3-4 razor blades if possible Gillette, red package. Do it now and then, it's permitted and

Celebrating 175: Correspondence, Steinberg, Saul, 1943
Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers
Extracted Feb-06-2023 04:43:07

Smithsonian Institution

Archives of American Art

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!

The Transcription Center: <https://transcription.si.edu>

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter>

On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian

Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian>

On Twitter: @smithsonian