

Smithsonian Institution

Archives of American Art

Celebrating 175: Correspondence, Steinberg, Saul, 1943

Extracted on Mar-29-2023 08:47:39

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the Archives of American Art as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the Archives of American Art website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact Archives of American Art or transcribe@si.edu

For more information on this project and related material, contact the Archives of American Art. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

sidewalk or ask you for butts. He'll follow the little boys and they'll do the undignified job things here are expensive. The inflation is still going on although not too bad now. The money is "yuan", we call it C.N., worth about one U.S. cent. and lots of black market going on. We pay of course a lot more for everything just because it's the old tradition to skin the foreign~~er~~ devil but I know now enough Chinese to discuss the price and that help.

I dreamed again last night of you: full of soap in the bathtub you were and full of curls as usual. That fixed me up for today. You know why. I supposed. Love to you S

⁴sidewalk or ask you for butts He'll follow the little boys and they'll do the undignified job Things here are expensive. The inflation is still going on although not too bad now. The money is "yuan", we call it C.N., worth about one U.S. cent. and lots of black market going on -
 We pay of course a lot more for everything just because it's the old tradition to skin the foreign~~er~~ devil but I know now enough Chinese to discuss the price and that help - I dreamed again last night of you: full of soap in the bathtub you were and full of curls as usual.
 That fixed me up for today. You know why, I suppose - Love to you S

Celebrating 175: Correspondence, Steinberg, Saul, 1943
 Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers Extracted Mar-29-2023 08:47:39

Smithsonian Institution

Archives of American Art

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!

The Transcription Center: <https://transcription.si.edu>

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter>

On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian

Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian>

On Twitter: @smithsonian