Dear wife,

I'm at home and a minute ago I had the cable telephoned - your cable from London. I was jittery and I kept calling the PAA to find out about the delay, they told me that you had to go the southern route, I'm happy you arrived well (I'm going to make myself a drink, I won't let you fly again, I worry too much)

I was very sad after I left you yesterday. I didn't go home, I walked around a while then I ate some drugstore food, went to 30 minutes of Museum movie (Sullivan's Travels) and after that to de Kooning, small quiet party (the brother of Biala, 2 other people with wives pregnant) had very little to drink, went to bed early. Couldn't sleep, I was worried. I hope your health is good darling

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.
