the fine big Thayer.
I enjoyed the late visit from General Hayes and Mr. Green, but the time spent here was too short to show them as many good things as I would like to have done.
Shall you not be coming this way ere long? It would give me pleasure to see you again, and I hope to be so favored.
You will, I know, pardon this typewritten letter, but a pressure of matters of one kind and another prevents my sending you a longhand letter.
With cordial regards, believe me,
Yours very sincerely,
Charles L. Freer

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.
