

Smithsonian Institution

Archives of American Art

Berence Abbott

Extracted on Apr-19-2024 12:27:14

The Smithsonian Institution thanks all digital volunteers that transcribed and reviewed this material. Your work enriches Smithsonian collections, making them available to anyone with an interest in using them.

The Smithsonian Institution (the "Smithsonian") provides the content on this website (transcription.si.edu), other Smithsonian websites, and third-party sites on which it maintains a presence ("SI Websites") in support of its mission for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge." The Smithsonian invites visitors to use its online content for personal, educational and other non-commercial purposes. By using this website, you accept and agree to abide by the following terms.

- If sharing the material in personal and educational contexts, please cite the Archives of American Art as source of the content and the project title as provided at the top of the document. Include the accession number or collection name; when possible, link to the Archives of American Art website.
- If you wish to use this material in a for-profit publication, exhibition, or online project, please contact Archives of American Art or transcribe@si.edu

For more information on this project and related material, contact the Archives of American Art. See this project and other collections in the Smithsonian Transcription Center.

out of the Bahnhof. People have been very nice to me – only one awful nuisance is that they resent the difference of exchange to a dangerous point and can't imagine one being American without being rich. The Rhine and the Hohenzollern Bridge were superb – Everything's different. Women look "dutchy" – on the whole – at first – one really must choke laughing sometimes – They lack chicness but they are much more independent and "modern" than french women. Every – even workmen seem to be well dressed. I made the trip quite alone and had the time of my life in spite of many difficulties. German is much easier to speak. Could you do any think with the studio? At present Man Ray has the key – and only occasionally uses it to take photographs in.

[[Underline]]Please [[/underline]] write me
 [[text continues up left margin]] and tell me the news of yourself. With lots and lots of regard & affection – always your friend Berenice out of the Bahnhof. People have been very nice to me – only one awful nuisance is that they resent the difference of exchange to a dangerous point and can't imagine one being American without being rich. The Rhine and the Hohenzollern Bridge were superb –. Every thing's different. Women look "dutchy" – on the whole – at first – one really must choke laughing sometimes – they lack chicness but they are much more independent and "modern" than french women.

Berenice
 Every – even workmen seem to be well dressed.
 I made the trip quite alone and had the time
 of my life in spite of many difficulties.
 German is much easier to speak. Could you do any think with the studio? At present Man Ray has the key and only occasionally uses it to take photographs in. Please write me

Berenice Abbott
 Transcribed and Reviewed by Digital Volunteers
 Approved by Smithsonian Staff
 Extracted Apr-19-2024 12:27:14

Smithsonian Institution

Archives of American Art

The mission of the Smithsonian is the increase and diffusion of knowledge - shaping the future by preserving our heritage, discovering new knowledge, and sharing our resources with the world. Founded in 1846, the Smithsonian is the world's largest museum and research complex, consisting of 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoological Park, and nine research facilities. Become an active part of our mission through the Transcription Center. Together, we are discovering secrets hidden deep inside our collections that illuminate our history and our world.

Join us!

The Transcription Center: <https://transcription.si.edu>

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/SmithsonianTranscriptionCenter>

On Twitter: @TranscribeSI

Connect with the Smithsonian

Smithsonian Institution: www.si.edu

On Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian>

On Twitter: @smithsonian